++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mostly fine during the day, becoming unsettled overnight.

Today:
Any morning mist and hill fog will gradually lift to allow warm sunny spells to develop. One or two showers developing during the afternoon, and turning rather windy. Feeling cooler in the wind. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Mostly dry for a time this evening, although cloud increasing from the west. A wet and windy night following, with some heavy rain developing. Drier in the southwest by morning. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Monday:
The band of rain continues to clear eastward and is followed by scattered heavy possibly thundery showers and sunny spells which continue throughout the day. Feeling cooler than Sunday. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Unsettled through this period. Prolonged rain or showers on Tuesday. Heavy possibly thundery showers, but with increasing sunny spells on Wednesday. Further showers likely on Thursday. Feeling cooler throughout.
